NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (unaudited)

1. BUSINESS AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

References herein to the "Company," "we," "our," or "us" refer to Novelis Global Employment Organization Inc. "Novelis GEO" unless the context specifically indicates otherwise.

Organization and Description of Business.

Novelis GEO was formed in the United States of America on December 15, 2015 as a result of repurposing a dormant entity, Novelis PAE. Novelis PAE Corporation was formed in the United States of America on November 19, 1998. Novelis GEO was formed for the main purpose of employing certain globally mobile employees. All of Novelis GEO's common shares are directly held by Novelis Holdings Inc, All of Novelis Holdings Inc.'s common shares are directly held by Novelis Inc. (Canada). The Company's functional and reporting currency is United States Dollar (USD).

The preparation of our consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP) requires us to make certain estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities as on the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Future events and their effects cannot be predicted with certainty, and accordingly, our accounting estimates require the exercise of judgment. The accounting estimates used in the preparation of our consolidated financial statements may change as new events occur, as more experience is acquired, as additional information is obtained and as our operating environment changes. We evaluate and update our assumptions and estimates on an ongoing basis and may employ outside experts to assist in our evaluations. Actual results could differ from the estimates we have used.

Basis of Presentation

These financial statements have been prepared to satisfy the reporting requirements of the ultimate parent company, Hindalco Industries Limited, for the sole purpose of complying with the Companies Act, 2013 ("The 2013 Act"). In accordance with Sections 136 and 137 of The 2013 Act, it is required to present separate subsidiary financial statements, and Section 137 further requires entities with foreign subsidiaries to submit individual financial statements of such foreign subsidiaries along with its own standalone and consolidated financial statements. Thus, the results of the Company's separate financial statements are included in the consolidated financial statements of our direct parent, Novelis Inc. and our ultimate parent, Hindalco Industries Limited, and those consolidated financial statements are publicly available.

The books and records of Novelis Global Employment Organization Inc. are prepared and recorded under U.S. GAAP, which requires that we consolidate any wholly-owned subsidiaries, majority-owned subsidiaries over which we exercise control, entities in which we have a controlling financial interest, and entities for which we are deemed to be the primary beneficiary. Accordingly, we have presented these financial statements on a standalone unconsolidated basis, which is a deviation from U.S. GAAP as it is not feasibly possible to present these statements in another basis of accounting other than books and records of the subsidiary.

Otherwise, these separate financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. These statements have not been audited, as there is no local jurisdictional requirement to present audited standalone subsidiary financial statements.

Risks and Uncertainties

We are exposed to a number of risks in the normal course of our operations that could potentially affect our financial position, results of operations, and cash flows.

Related Party Transactions

Included in the accompanying financial statements are transactions and balances arising from business we conduct with our indirect parent, Novelis Inc., or with subsidiaries of Novelis Inc., which we classify as related party transactions and balances. As of March 31, 2020 and March 31, 2019 we had an outstanding accounts receivable due from Novelis Corporation of $3,814 thousand and $1,983 thousand, respectively, which is shown as "Accounts receivable — related party" in the accompanying balance sheet.

Income Taxes

We account for income taxes using the asset and liability method. This approach recognizes the amount of income taxes payable or refundable for the current year, as well as deferred tax assets and liabilities for the future tax consequence of events recognized in the financial statements and income tax returns. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are adjusted to recognize the effects of changes in tax laws or enacted tax rates. Under ASC 740, Income Taxes (ASC 740), a valuation allowance is required when it is more likely than not that some portion of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Realization is dependent on generating sufficient taxable income through various sources.

Operating Guarantees

We have issued guarantees on behalf of certain of Novelis Inc.'s subsidiaries. The indebtedness guaranteed is for trade accounts payable to third parties. Some of the guarantees have annual terms while others have no expiration and have termination notice requirements. Neither we nor any of the other subsidiaries hold any assets of any third parties as collateral to offset the potential settlement of these guarantees.

Guarantees of Indebtedness

On September 14, 2016, Novelis Corporation issued $1.5 billion in aggregate principal amount of 5.875% Senior Notes Due 2026 (the 2026 Notes). In January 2020, Novelis Corporation issued $1.6 billion in aggregate principal amount of 4.75% Senior Notes due 2030 (the 2030 Notes, together with the 2026 Notes, the Notes). The Notes are guaranteed, jointly and severally, on a senior unsecured basis, by Novelis Inc. and certain of its subsidiaries. We have issued guarantees on behalf of Novelis Inc.'s (the Parent and Issuer) 2026 Notes and 2030 Notes. As of March 31, 2020, no contingent loss has been recorded related to the guarantee of debt.

The Notes contain customary covenants and events of default that will limit our ability and, in certain instances, the ability of certain of our subsidiaries to (1) incur additional debt and provide additional guarantees, (2) pay dividends or return capital beyond certain amounts and make other restricted payments, (3) create or permit certain liens, (4) make certain asset sales, (5) use the proceeds from the sales of assets and subsidiary stock, (6) create or permit restrictions on the ability of certain of the Company's subsidiaries to pay dividends or make other distributions to the Company, (7) engage in certain transactions with affiliates, (8) enter into sale and leaseback transactions, (9) designate subsidiaries as unrestricted subsidiaries and (10) consolidate, merge or transfer all or substantially all of our assets and the assets of certain of our subsidiaries. During any future period in which either Standard & Poor's Ratings Group, Inc. or Moody's Investors Service, Inc. have assigned an investment grade credit rating to the Notes and no default or event of default under the indenture has occurred and is continuing, most of the covenants will be suspended. The Notes include a cross-acceleration event of default triggered if (1) any other indebtedness with an aggregate principal amount of more than $100 million is (1) accelerated prior to its maturity or (2) not repaid at its maturity. As of March 31, 2020, we were in compliance with the covenants in the Notes. The Notes also contain customary call protection provisions for our bond holders that extend through September 2024 for the 2026 Notes and through January 2028 for the 2030 Notes.

2. INCOME TAX

We used the benefits-for-loss method of tax allocation so that net operating losses are characterized as realized (or realizable).

We are subject to Canadian and local income taxes. The domestic (Canada) components of our "Income (Loss) before income taxes" are as follows (in thousands).

	Year Ended March 31,
	2020	2019
Domestic (Canada)	$ 103	$ (17)
Pre-tax income (loss)	$ 103	$ (17)

The components of the "Income tax provision" are as follows (in thousands), which are related to withholding taxes.

	Year Ended March 31,
	2020	2019
Current provision:
Domestic (Canada)	$ 22	$ (3)
Total current	22	(3)
Deferred provision:
Domestic (Canada)	-	-
Total deferred	-	-
Income tax provision	$ 22	$ (3)

Deferred Income Taxes

Deferred income taxes recognize the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the carrying amounts used for income tax purposes, and the impact of available net operating loss (NOL) and tax credit carryforwards. These items are stated at the enacted tax rates that are expected to be in effect when taxes are actually paid or recovered.

The Company had no deferred tax assets at March 31, 2020 and 2019.
